

Owners Voice Concern Over Coast Beach Plan

No Move Now Is Scheduled, Council Says

Engineer Aims Multi-Stage Proposal

Concerned beachfront property owners jammed into Pacifica city hall council chambers last Wednesday night as a special beach development committee presented a long awaited multi-million dollar plan for public beach improvement over the coming years.

After making its first review of the stage by stage plan which would be tied into an erosion control project prepared by the Army Corps of Engineers, the council assured protestants that no immediate action was anticipated and that public hearings would be held before any final decisions are made.

Engineer Edward Maykel recommended that major beaches such as Pedro Beach, the beach along the Sharp Park golf course and in Sharp Park be brought into public jurisdiction. However, he said some areas could be developed privately.

The plan calls for some property owners to dedicate strips of beach to bring them into public ownership and thus make them eligible for federal and state financial aid for development.

If tied in with erosion control, it is estimated that the plan could be 50 per cent federally financed and 25 per cent from state aid.

Pacifica Boy Saved From Cliff Ledge

A 9-year-old boy who fell over the edge of a 70-foot high precipice at the Pacific Manor Beach was saved from serious injury when he landed on a small ledge some 10-feet below and was rescued by a Pacifica Fire Department rescue squad after his 6-year-old sister ran for help Monday afternoon.

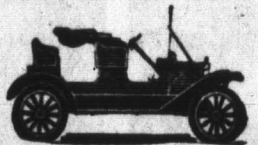

Capt. Calvin Hinton reported that the lad, Mike DeRitis of 431 Fremont Avenue, Pacifica, apparently suffered no ill effects from his experience.

According to firemen, Mike and his little sister, Patty, had gone to the cliff to get some sand for their pet cat's box when the boy slipped over the edge of the cliff, breaking his fall as he grabbed some grass.

His sister started for home, but just as she had started off, her mother, Mrs. Joseph J. DeRitis, drove by after taking a neighbor to a doctor. She picked up the little girl and went to the Pacific Manor Fire Department headquarters to seek help after finding she was unable to reach her son from the top of the cliff. Fireman Joe Hill was lowered to the stranded boy by Captain Hinton.

The call, at 4:38 p.m., was one of six which kept firemen busy throughout most of yesterday.

Supervisors Ask Assessment Cut

Outlet for P.O. Sought In Bayshore

The Daly City Post Office Department is making a second try at interesting some merchant in the city's Bayshore area to provide postal services on a contract basis.

Bayshore was annexed to the city in 1963 and has been served by the Daly City department since January of 1964.

After a survey of Bayshore early last year, the department was authorized to contract out postal services in Bayshore. However, nobody bid on a postal contract.

Daly City Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy said the department again has been authorized by regional post office authorities to operate a contract post office in the Bayshore area.

Advertisements for bids on such a facility have been posted and bids will be opened at 9 a.m. Thursday, July 15, in the main post office at 1100 Sullivan Street in Daly City.

Murphy said a contract station is being sought in the vicinity of Geneva Avenue and Rio Verde Street.

The facility would provide full postal services and also serve as a delivery station for mail for which notices to call have been left with intended mail recipients.

Murphy said the facility would be known as Station One.

Last year, Murphy said that (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Ryan Seeks Meetings on Air Safety

A request for a conference on airport problems, and a suggestion that San Francisco International's runways need to be longer, have grown out of last week's near-tragic jet takeoff.

The normal turbulence following a jet takeoff has been protested by homeowners for years, Assemblyman Leo Ryan declared, but having their homes showered by falling airplane parts is something else.

In a letter to George Hanson, general manager of the airport, Assemblyman Ryan, D-Burlingame, asked for a conference on safety measures and noise patterns.

The conference would include (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

TEMPORARILY Disputed Zoning Plan Withdrawn

A controversial proposal to erect apartments on the west side of Wyandotte Avenue near East Molike and Price Streets in Daly City will be "temporarily" withdrawn.

An application to rezone the property for multiple dwellings has been pending before the Planning Commission since early May.

Developer Gus Pedemonte of 1500 Hillside Boulevard said the application "will be temporarily withdrawn" until he is able to devote more time to the proposal.

At a hearing on the application before the Planning Commission May 5, a delegation of residents protested the apartment proposal.

A petition, signed by 21 persons, said that residents' views would be impaired, that the application represents spot zoning and that parking problems would be created by the erection of apartments.

At the hearing, Pedemonte noted that the property recently had been annexed to Daly City and that he planned to demolish abandoned nursery buildings on the land to make way for apartments.

The application is scheduled (Please See Page 2, Column 7)

D.C. Building Up Sharply in 1st 6 Months

Construction in Daly City during the first half of this year is up sharply from the first six months of 1964, according to figures released this week.

Through June 30, the city had issued a total of 798 permits for new construction or alterations. This compares with 528 permits issued for the same period last year.

The value of the new construction for the first half of 1965 is estimated at $12,503,744, more than $5-million greater than what new construction for the similar period last year was valued at.

Auto 'Clears' 5-Foot Fence

A Daly City motorist escaped with only minor injuries early Friday when his auto careened off Skyline Drive in dense fog, plunged down a steep, 200-foot embankment turned over several times and bounced over a five-foot fence before it came to rest against the side of a house.

The driver, Donald F. Smith, 26, of 173 Westmoor Avenue, was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital for shock, cuts and bruises.

His car, a foreign-model station wagon, was completely demolished. It came to rest against a house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cipponeri and their five children at 904 Higite Avenue, Daly City.

One of the children said later that the impact of the car against the house sounded like "an earthquake."

Only damage to the house was a broken window. The family were sleeping at the time.

Smith told Patrolman Robert Sola that he thought he was driving in one of the northbound lanes of Skyline when suddenly the lane turned out to be the shoulder of the road.

The auto became airborne, Smith said, when it careened over a curve on the shoulder. (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

7 Trustees Proposed for School Units Administration Details Are Adopted

Details of administration and organization of two unified school districts proposed for the North County were tentatively approved last week by the County Committee on School District Organization.

One of the districts (N-1) would consist of the Laguna Salada Union Elementary District and the South San Francisco Unified District. The other (N-2) would include the Jefferson, Brisbane and Bayshore elementary districts.

The committee agreed on similar organization proposals for the two districts. Each would have seven trustees elected at large.

The tax rate for each in the first year would be a rate needed to raise the same amount of money that would have been raised by imposition of the maximum rates of the component districts in the previous year.

Bond debts would be shared by the entire district in each case and state aid debts would remain the obligations of the individual districts.

On the basis of current data, Al Glantz, deputy county superintendent of schools, told the committee, the tax rate for the N-1 district would be $3.84 in the first year.

This would mean that the rate in the Laguna Salada area would drop 61 cents while the rate in South San Francisco would be up 19 cents.

In N-2, a $4.47 rate would be in effect, meaning an increase of 22 cents in Bayshore, an increase of 2 cents in Brisbane and a decrease of three cents in the Jefferson Elementary District.

The N-2 proposal has been rejected once by the State Board of Education. The N-1 plan is different in that it includes the South San Francisco district.

A hearing on N-1 is scheduled for 8 p.m., July 22, in the board room, 396 B Street, South San Francisco. A hearing on N-2 will be held at 8 p.m., July 20, in the Little Theatre of Westmoor High School in Daly City.

EXCEEDS PREDICTIONS

State Review Of County's Roll Sought

The new county assessment roll, bigger even than had been predicted, was submitted to the County Board of Supervisors yesterday and the supervisors immediately asked that it be cut down on an across-the-board basis.

A resolution was approved asking the State Board of Equalization to review the roll and reduce it to the statewide average, if deemed advisable.

Assessor Ralph B. Woodman told the board that the roll is now equalized, for the first time in at least 15 years, at 25 per cent of true market value. The statewide average last year, he said, was 22.1 per cent and he has received information that the average may drop to 21.6 per cent this year.

George Reilly, a member of the state board, has stated in the past that it would have been more "realistic" for Woodman to peg the new roll at about 22.5 per cent rather than 25 per cent. Whether the state board would agree to a reduction of that amount or more, now that the roll has been increased to the "ideal" of 25 per cent, was a matter for conjecture, however.

Reached in San Francisco yesterday afternoon, Reilly expressed personal doubt that the state agency will grant the request. He said it might be possible to reduce the San Mateo County ratio to a level 3 per cent above the state average, however. Thus, if the state average drops to 21.6 per cent, a slight reduction in the San Mateo County figure might be warranted.

Reilly said that if the county supervisors feel that Woodman's figures are too high, they should grant a reduction to every property owner who comes before them when they sit as a board of equalization.

The board's action was taken on the eve of a long series of equalization hearings scheduled for the next two weeks during which scores of property owners will appear to protest against the assessments assigned to their properties. Equalization, however, deals with a different matter than does the board's resolution of yesterday. The one deals with a comparison of one property against another; the other deals with a blanket percentage decrease that would be applied to all assessments.

Woodman reported to the board that the total roll, exclusive of the value of property owned by utility companies, is now a whopping $1,464,601,161, an increase of $394,221,714 over 1964.

The increase of 35.56 per cent will be reduced to around 32.5 per cent, Woodman said, when the utility roll is figured in next month.

When the assessor set out to equalize all property at 25 per cent of market value, compared with a 19.2 per cent average last year, he estimated that the total (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Roll Can Be Altered, D.C. Attorney Says

City Attorney Paul Hupf of Daly City yesterday was to tell the Board of Supervisors that it has the power to change the assessment roll if it wants to.

In a prepared speech that was to be presented at a hearing requested by Daly City councilmen, Hupf noted:

"There is little doubt in my mind that the board of supervisors in this county could adjust this roll if it saw fit to do so."

In his talk, Hupf said that the increases in assessments will place an "unjust burden" on San Mateo County taxpayers.

"The roll, in short, does mean more taxes," he told supervisors, "and you have the power to prevent that by bringing this roll up to date." (Please See Page 2, Column 5) airport and city officials, Ryan suggested, as well as agents of each airline operating here.

Another suggestion for the airport came from San Francisco Public Utilities Manager James Carr, who suggested longer runways are needed so planes will not have to go so far as Travis Air Force Base in emergencies.

Pan American Airways' Flight 943 was diverted to Travis, he said, because the air base offers runways 12,000 feet long and San Francisco Airport's longest runway is 9,700 feet.

Carr noted that plans have already been made to extend one runway to 10,000 feet, and that the federal government has promised to pay half of the estimated $1 million cost.

It might be worthwhile, he suggested, to consider just how long the runways should be.

"We had a tentative agreement with the Federal Aviation Agency to extend our runways to 11,570 feet, but they decided against it because they felt we had superior facilities if an even, level field and lack of glare are taken into consideration."

Ryan asked for a full report on the near-tragedy and for further efforts to protect citizens.

"I think we must all do our utmost to make sure that we maintain an economically sound airport industry in this area, and at the same time reassure the citizens of this area that everything is being done that is possible to make the lives of the citizens who live within the takeoff and landing patterns useful and worthwhile."

Copies of the letter were sent to Mayor John Shelley of San Francisco, Mayor Frank Pacelli of Daly City, Mayor Frank Bertucci of South San Francisco, and Mayor Neil Christal of San Bruno.

Auto 'Clears' 5-Foot Fence In Daly City

He was thrown clear of the vehicle as it plunged down the hillside.

At the bottom of the embankment, the vehicle bounced and sailed over the five-foot fence in the backyard of the Cipponeri home, nicking only the top part of the fence.

The incident took place almost at the exact spot where a Pacifica woman was fatally injured July 11, 1963, when her auto careened off the highway, rolled over several times and came to a halt upside down in the backyard of a home at 898 Highgate.

The auto, driven by Virginia M. Vornoli of 1419 Perez Drive, and another vehicle had collided on the highway. The driver of the other auto was subsequently charged with felony manslaughter.

alone, however, was estimated at some $1,500,000, according to City Manager Karl A. Baldwin.

The plan calls for eventual development of a small marina in the area of the Rockaway quarry and the construction of jetties and piers as part of the erosion control plan.

Revision of Assessments To Be Asked

roll would climb 25 to 30 percent. He underestimated by several percentage points.

Woodman said the increase would have been even larger if a mistake had not been discovered in the new assessments assigned to agricultural land. It was found, he said, that the method of using sales experiences to value agricultural land resulted in unfair assessments.

As a result, he revealed, a 40 percent decrease was ordered for the new agricultural valuations.

Woodman pledged that from now on the assessment roll will remain in an equalized condition, with adjustments every year to reflect changes in economic conditions in particular areas. His staff, he said, will physically inspect every parcel in the county at least once every four years.

He estimated that about 40 percent of the 165,000 parcels in the county were found to be properly assessed this year.

After the roll had been presented to the board yesterday, County Manager E. R. Stallings praised Woodman for a "tremendous job" and said that the referral to the state board should not be considered a slap at the assessor's "sincerity or accuracy." Stallings noted that the county board has no authority to order a blanket reduction in the total roll and that the state board is the only agency that has such authority.

"It appears," Stallings said, "that it might be appropriate to ask the state board to immediately review the roll and if it determines that the ratio is in excess of the state-wide average by an appreciable amount, to take steps to reduce the roll accordingly." Stallings said he had discussed the matter with Woodman before the board meeting.

"We have performed our constitutional and statutory duties," Woodman told the supervisors. "If it is the wish of the people, through his board, to have a reduction in the roll, I would have no objection. The roll would still be equalized."

ing this roll close to the state-wide average rather than 15 or 20 percent above the average."

He said that assurance should be given by the county assessor that each property owner's assessment is equal with that of other taxpayers in San Mateo County.

Commenting on a proposed 26-cent increase in the tax rate of the Jefferson Elementary School District, Hupf noted that: "The taxpayer not only has a huge increase in his assessment but he must also pay more taxes in order that his school district will have the same amount of money to spend as in previous years."

The attorney said that statements that an increase in assessment did not necessarily mean an increase in taxes were "deceptive."

"On the contrary," he said, "it very definitely and unqualifiedly will result in higher property taxes to a substantial degree."

At the session, the commission is scheduled to take up applications from:

Peter Bistolfi of 60 Elmwood Drive, Daly City, to operate an auto repair garage on two lots on the south side of Eighty-seventh Street, west of Sullivan Avenue.

James Paulson of 1967 Junipero Serra Boulevard to erect a four-foot by 20-foot unlighted sign, reading "Westlake Equipment Rentals," at the Junipero Serra address.

West Coast Advertising of San Francisco to erect a billboard on the southeast corner of School Street and the Southern Pacific Railroad's right-of-way.

The planners also will consider applications from Thomas Callan Jr. of 2790 Junipero Serra Boulevard to rezone three lots at 480 Westlake Avenue from single family to multiple family status and to rezone three lots northeast of Santa Cruz Avenue and Hillcrest Drive from single family to multiple family status.

The applications had been held over by the commission.

Driver Rides Truck Down Coast Cliff

Ralph Saylor, 43-year-old Moss Beach worker, miraculously escaped death last Wednesday when his pickup truck plunged over a Devil's Slide cliff and came to rest in a twisted heap 400 feet below.

Highway patrolmen said Saylor was driving northbound, two miles north of Montara, at 4:20 p.m. when the truck left the road.

From his bed in Peninsula Hospital, Saylor told officers that the truck swayed out of control on a curve.

Another driver, Robert Bryant, 34, 325 Magnolia Street, Half Moon Bay, saw the truck go over the precipice.

Bryant managed to climb down to the wreckage and said he found Saylor still in the truck, bleeding badly from head and face wounds.

As he approached, Bryant said, Saylor got out of the truck, which was lying on its left side, and then collapsed.

Bryant tried to administer first aid until help arrived.

The injured man was carried up the steep slope on a stretcher and was taken by ambulance to the hospital, where he was admitted to the intensive care unit.

Attendants said that in addition to the multiple cuts Saylor sustained a possible fractured left shoulder.

Advisors for the Teen Club program are Dick Burton and Ginny Silva. Also helping with the program will be Gerry Doyle.

2nd Recall Bid Starts

A second move to recall County Assessor Ralph Woodman got under way last week. On June 26, the Tri-County Apartment Association announced its plans for a recall in the wake of recent assessment increases.

Vernon B. Elder, of 122 Atherton Avenue, Atherton, a painting contractor, has formed a recall movement in a bid to gain 12,000 signatures of registered voters to place the recall issue on the ballot.

It's a Hit With Pacificans

PACIFICANS are flocking in greater numbers to their library now that the facility has been housed in this handsome structure on Palmetto Avenue. The building opened May 19. It replaces the old Sharp Park Library, which was demolished to make way for the Cabrillo Freeway. The building includes a large meeting room that is used by civic and cultural groups. Kathleen McAvin, the librarian, said that 19,000 books are housed in the building. (Post-Times Photo)

Driver Hurt As Car Fells Utility Pole

A Daly City truck driver suffered facial cuts when his pickup truck careened out of control, knocked over a utility pole and smashed against three cars in a used car lot about 5:30 p.m. Thursday.

Richard L. Schmidt, 29, of 178 Los Olivos Avenue, the driver, was treated by his own physician.

The accident occurred in front of 7545 Mission Street in Colma. Schmidt told police the throttle on his car had stuck and when he reached to turn the ignition key off, the auto went out of control.

It knocked over the utility pole and then smashed against the three used cars, parked in a lot at 7545 Mission Avenue. Ramblar was listed as owner of the cars.

Falling power lines from the pole damaged a fourth parked car, owned by Barbara Fahet of 3148 Dublin Court, South San Francisco, police reported.

New Senior Citizens Unit Established

A new Daly City Senior Citizens Club sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department was formed last week.

Twenty-eight charter members met at the club's first session at the Lincoln Park Clubhouse at Acton and Brunswick Streets.

Named temporary chairman was Peter Becker. Other temporary officers are Mrs. Ethel Harris, secretary, and Edmund Cavagnaro, publicity. They will serve until the club's first slate of officers is elected.

The club is open to all Daly City residents. Meetings will be held at 10:30 each Wednesday morning in the Lincoln Park Clubhouse. Jerry Podesta will serve as the Recreation Department's liaison aide to the club.

At the first meeting last week, club members saw two travelogue movies — one on Europe and the other on Israel.

$12,733,950 Is Spent by S.M. Visitors

Conventions, sales meetings and conferences in San Mateo County from May 1 last year to April 30 this year, attracted 84,893 visitors who spent an estimated $12,733,950.

The San Mateo County Convention and Visitors Bureau announced the figures last week. The amount spent is based on national studies that visitors spend an average of $50 a day. The statistics don't include the expenditures on dinners, luncheons and meetings of local organizations.

Figuring in the money spent at the Bay Meadows Race Track, Redwood City Independence Day Celebration, San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta and the Cow Palace, the grand total goes up to 3,940,915 visitors who le tbehind $32,025,160 the bureau noted.

Air Medal Given to Pacifcan

Lieutenant Colonel Doyle L. Crites, son of Mrs. Carrye Crites of 356 Nelson Avenue, Pacifica, has been awarded the fourth oak leaf cluster to the U. S. Air Force Air Medal at Hickam AFB, Hawaii, for aerial achievement.

Colonel Crites won the award — an oak leaf cluster represents an additional award of the medal — for personal bravery and airmanship in the fight against Communist aggression in Viet Nam.

The colonel is now chief of the training division at headquarters, Pacific Air Forces (PACAF), at Hickam.

PACAF provides airpower for defense of the U. S. and its allies in the Pacific area.

The Salina (Kan.) high school graduate, who attended Kansas Wesleyan University, entered the service in 1941.

He was commissioned in 1942 through the aviation cadet program.

Jones, 40, will work out of the San Francisco office of the Criminal Investigation and Identification Bureau.

Proposal for Shop Center Is Reviewed

Plans for the new nine-acre Faimont shopping center, whose main feature will be a covered mall over a "T" shape arrangement of buildings, were presented to Pacifica planning commissioners by representatives of the Doelger Development Company at a study meeting last week.

Planning Administrator James Supinger noted that while city regulations would require only 145 parking spaces for the new center, plans provide for 450 spaces.

Company representatives outlined plans for a new Safeway Market and a "Super S" market on both sides of the top of the "T."

Two buildings on either side of the stem of the "T" will be divided into shops as needed, company representatives said. The mall, which consist of the stem of the "T," will be covered over.

Although the proposed shopping area is generally similar in size to the city's Eureka Square shopping center, its planning is entirely different in concept, Supinger reported. While Eureka Square is more spread out with less parking spaces, the new center will be clustered around one location.

Commissioners expressed no major objections to plans after reviewing them for three hours.

By LE PACINI

THOUGHTS ON BASEBALL: It continually astounds us as to how little effort it requires to be a baseball genius.

Take, for instance, the case of Bob Shaw and how now all of a sudden he's a successful starter instead of a mediocre reliever.

Herman Franks, who, by the way, we sincerely feel is doing a fine job with a poorly-balanced, injury-riddled, Cepeda-less team, is now being proclaimed as a genius for making Shaw into a starter.

On a recent radio interview Herman modestly stated that he couldn't really take the credit, that a Giant statistician had checked into the records and, lo and behold, had discovered that Shaw had had his greatest success with other teams as a starting pitcher.

Now, any fan who can read the Baseball Register would have known this when Shaw came to the club last year and should have been properly surprised when Alvin Dark proclaimed Shaw a great reliever.

Shaw had helped pitch the White Sox to their 1959 pennant with 18 wins as a starter, and, with Chicago, Kansas City and Milwaukee over the next three years, had, as a starter, won a total of 40 games.

MIDWAY THROUGH the 1963 season, he had the misfortune of being taken off the starting rotation, not because of ineffectiveness, but only because the Braves were desperately in need of relievers and manager Bobby Bragan felt that Shaw was the best qualified man he had for the job at the time.

Shaw responded well and had a good half season as a relief pitcher. But half a season as a relief pitcher stacked up against four good seasons as a starter certainly shouldn't have qualified him as a relief expert.

We considered this so obvious a fact that we didn't bother to write about it months ago, simply because we felt it constituted no big scoop.

But now this Giant statistician is being proclaimed as a genius, while we're left in the cold, scoopless.

As far as we're concerned, the statistician in question should be fired—not praised—for not having at least one year sooner come up with information that is readily available—and even more easily interpreted—to any ordinary baseball fan.

WHILE STILL on the subject of Shaw, it's interesting to note that when the Phillies were interviewed after Shaw had one-hit them in what Phillie manager Gene Mauch had considered a fine spit-ball exhibition, that one of those interviewed by a San Francisco paper was Lew Burdette, who, in effect, issued a "no comment."

Could it be that Burdette, also a renowned spit-ball pitcher (unofficially, of course) and Shaw's Milwaukee teammate in 1963, is refusing to squeal on his pupil?

And isn't it also curious that the Dodgers, when they blasted Shaw out of the box in the third inning, never once complained about his spit-ball?

MORE ON PITCHING and a paradox in that department. While weak hitting encourages good pitching by forcing pitchers to bear down on every pitch (would Drysdale, Koufax, etc., be quite as spectacular if they pitched for, say, the Braves?), that same constant pressure also eventually wears down a pitcher, psychologically and/or physically (which is exactly what happened to Dodger pitchers in late season last year).

We wonder how many players realize that the difference between a .250 hitter and a .300 hitter is, roughly, one hit a week; that the difference between a .250 hitter and a .350 hitter is two hits a week; and that a mediocre hitter can make himself into a .400 hitter merely by adding about three hits a week to his normal output?

Imagine! Ted Williams was only two hits a week better than Tom Haller. All of which gives you an idea of how exacting a game baseball is and the huge, yet infinitesimal difference between the average man and the great man.

We have a hunch that life is a little bit like that, with a little extra effort, a little extra talent, a few extra inches making the difference between success and failure, good and bad.

Perhaps the one largest reason for Yankee troubles this year, besides the injuries and batting slumps, is overconfidence on the part of regulars who no longer have to worry about great "bench" men taking their places, because expansion and rookie rules have, at least temporarily, killed strong benches.

One of Casey Stengel's greatest "secrets" was that his frequent lineup juggling made everyone except the Mantles feel insecure.

CHECK NATIONAL LEAGUE lineups and you'll note that every top catcher (Haller, Roseboro, McCarver, Edwards, Bateman, Torre, Dalrymple) with the exception of Pittsburgh's Jim Pagliaroni—who came in a trade with the Red Sox—was brought up through the club's farm system. This proves three things: (1) good catchers aren't traded, (2) good catchers are at a premium, and (3) farm clubs are still important.

It used to be that minor league records meant something. Continuing progress could be gauged by just what the kid did in Class C ball, and then Class B, and A, and so on.

But with the jumbled new classifications and force-feeding, minor league statistics now mean next to nothing. The minors are mere stepping off places where kids can get "quick" experience for their fast rise to the top.

EXCUSE US for chuckling at a recent dispatch praising Cincinnati's glass backstop as a great new innovation. Paul Fagan installed one at Seals Stadium in 1946 and they called him a nut.

THE CASE OF Dave Nicholson, former Baltimore, current White Sox strong boy outfielder whose clubhouse feats of strength have yet to be translated on the field of play, proves once again that sheer strength is as important to baseball as the fat kid on the block used to be in the neighborhood touch-tackle games when he was always awarded to the dumb guys on the other side so that you could have someone to run around.

After all, how big is Ernie Banks, or Hank Aaron, or Felix Mantilla, or Luis Aparicio, or Maury Wills, or Albie Pearson, or etc., etc.?

Dragster in a Bank

THE BANK OF AMERICA'S Colma Branch played host to a drag racer for a week. The racer, known as the Gateway Chevrolet Special, has an estimated horsepower of 800 to 1,000. Looking over the speedster are, left to right, Gerry Mincher, Guido Bartolo and Carroll Mincher. The Minchers own Gateway Chevrolet. Bartolo is manager of the B of A branch. The auto has been driven at drag race tracks in Half Moon Bay, Riverside and Bakersfield by Frank Silva. Its top performance to date is 172 miles per hour in 8.48 seconds.

7th Annual P&L Bowl Meet Set

The Daly City Police Department's seventh annual Police Athletic League Benefit Bowling Tournament will be held this year from August 28 through October 10 at Westlake Bowl.

All proceeds will go to the P&L to help the league finance its program of sports events for youngsters in Daly City.

The program is financed solely by tournament proceeds. At present an estimated 800 youngsters participate in three organized sports conducted by the P&L.

As in the past merchants and individuals are donating prizes and cash to be awarded to the top performers in the tournament.

Daly City police chief, in a letter to prospective donors, noted that the prizes are the nucleus of the tournament and are a key factor in attracting participants.

Merchants or individuals who wish to donate prizes or cash may call PL 5-4213, extension 32.

D.C. Church Will Survey Community

Westlake Lutheran Church at Avalon Drive and Westmoor Avenue will launch a three-week community-wide survey this week, covering most homes in the Westlake area of Daly City.

A parish mission builder team of the American Lutheran Church, comprising three college-age youths, will help members of the congregation in taking the survey.

They are: Janet Gjesdal from Birch Hills, Saskatchewan, Canada; Susan Hasel from Pemberville, O., and John Rossing from Minneapolis, Minn.

Before coming to the west coast they were trained for their work in Milwaukee, Wis.

According to the Rev. Kenneth D. Hansen, pastor of Westlake Lutheran, the purpose of the survey will be to determine the religious affiliation of residents living near the church and thereby determine how the church can minister to the community.

Information that will be useful to other churches will be forwarded to them.

The youths will stay at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. James Ayers and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Langosch. They will eat dinners at the homes of members of Westlake Lutheran.

County's BBB Merits Support

ONE OF THE constant safeguards for every citizen, business and industry in San Mateo County is the Better Business Bureau.

Always on the job to protect the consumer from fraud and deception, prevent the victimizing of businesses, and to provide information that wards off sharp practices and chiselers, the Better Business Bureau is a valuable asset to the whole county.

Allied with similar organizations throughout the state and nation, the familiarly known "BBB" is able to warn against the rackets, the schemes, and the ingenious plans that the dishonest are forever devising to separate honest citizens from their money.

Often the BBB can put a caller straight within seconds as to the merit of the people and the transactions for which he is being importuned.

If the local BBB does not have the necessary information, it can get it quickly through other agencies. This service has a real dollars and cents value.

THE PROOF OF BBB effectiveness can be and daily is tested by those wise enough to "clear" any proposal they are doubtful about by a reference to the BBB. Sometimes the simple statement, "I'll just check the Better Business Bureau on this," is sufficient. Reliable people welcome this inquiry; the unreliable will usually head for the door in a hurry.

Perhaps the good offices of the BBB are taken too much for granted by some of us. As in some other quasi-public services, there is a tendency to accept the usefulness of this agency and expect someone else to foot the bills.

Right now the Better Business Bureau of San Mateo County needs financial help to continue and expand its services on behalf of all of us. It needs and justly deserves support.

'Forecasting the Weather

WHEN GRANDPA used to forecast rain by the aching in his bones, he may have been more scientific than his scoffing offspring realized.

At least, 18 experts have reported to the World Meteorological Organization that weather and barometric pressure changes have a tremendous effect on the health and the emotional well-being of human beings.

During a common thunderstorm, for instance, more people are born, die, have accidents and come down with maladies than in fine weather.

Sudden weather changes aggravate chronic ailments, and heat and cold may even have something to do with the sex of babies, the researchers say.

Since there still isn't much anyone can do about the weather, the information is more interesting than important. But it at least gives man something more substantial than a simple primal urge to keep an eye cocked at the sky.

The Marquee

Blastoff for 'Great Race'

Barbara Bladen

HOLLYWOOD—There is nothing bigger in the annals of Hollywood press agency than a world premiere. It's costly, it's tremendously prestigious, it's exhausting and it's fun.

More than 350 press, radio and television representatives from all over the world were here for four days on the invitation of Jack L. Warner to view "The Great Race." Since they spent 12 million dollars in making the film, I suppose another two hundred thousand on this publicity party was nothing.

THIS MAY NOT be the proper time to discuss the movie, since it won't open in the Bay Area until the fall but I can't help shouting about it and haven't stopped talking about it since I left the Pantages Theater in Hollywood. It is one of the all-time "great" pictures of our time. Similar in feeling to "Around the World in 80 Days" but with more humor, it is a marvelous spoof on all the gimmicks of the silent and early day comedies.

EVEN ALL the show's stars took part in the kick-off celebration. Not because they were ordered to by the studio but because they had such a ball making the picture, they couldn't seem to stop talking about it either.

A dinner party was held at the Beverly Hilton Hotel but the really big Jubilee came the next day when Warner's turned one of their largest sound stages into a night club setting and served dinner for 600 invited guests. Chasen's Restaurant, which is to food as Tiffany's is to diamonds, catered the affair. They hung 20 gigantic crystal chandeliers on chains above the dinner tables.

A large raised stage was the focal point where a full orchestra accompanied a live stage show, only seconded by the presidential election ball. Phil Silvers was master of ceremonies and performers included Dorothy Provine (who is in the movie), Dean Martin, Woody Allen, a corps of dancers and Henry Mancini who did the film score.

"I hope you'll all come to Hollywood again," our host Jack Warner said graciously. "If we invite you again," he said typically.

Silvers added that he only accepted the invitation because "I thought 'The Great Race' was a story about 'My People'."

THE PICTURE'S stars, Tony Curtis, and his wife Christine Kaufmann and Jack Lemmon and his wife, Felicia Farr; Larry Storch, Natalie Wood, Keenan Wynn were all there. Paul Ford, Arthur O'Connell, Edith Head and San Mateo's own Karen Ann Jensen also passed our table.

I may not be able to wait until the film opens up here. A second trip to see the funny, funny film wouldn't be any more expensive than a visit to the psychiatrist. That's what I'll need if you don't agree it's one of the funniest modern-day comedies you've ever seen.

Church of the Nazarene

BROADMOOR Church of the Nazarene was organized as the Grace Church of the Nazarene in 1933 and was located on Vista Grande Avenue in Daly City. In 1954, under the ministry of the Rev. Lowell Gray, the present church structure (pictured above) was erected at Edgeworth Avenue and Washington Street in Broadmoor. The present pastor, the Rev. Vernon E. Thomas, has been with the church for the past seven years. He succeeded the Rev. Keith Wiseman. The church has about 50 members and 80 children are enrolled in its Sunday School. (Post-Times Photo)

Gypsters Enter The Wig Field

Lorene Beasley

DR. JAMES W. BURKS, professor of clinical medicine at Tulane University says that eventually all women will be bald. However, today women have $200,000,000 worth of more hair than ever before.

When the wig made fashion headlines in Paris, only the celebrities admitted to wearing them. Jackie Kennedy was reported to carry several wigs with her when she traveled.

Jayne Mansfield's pastel-hued collection, made to match the occasion and her moods, made good publicity.

Today, wig stores are found on all favored shopping streets. It is the brunette wife whose husband is partial to blondes, the career girl who must look well-groomed at all times but does not have the time to spend in beauty salons, and the executive's wife whose husband brings home unexpected dinner guests who are among the women who own three to four wigs today.

THE NEW KING of the gypsters is the wig entrepreneur who operates on a fast turnover, low-down payment and long-term contract principles without city regulation.

Only an expert can tell the true value of a wig. Very few first-time wig buyers are able to distinguish the quality, hand-made wig from the mass produced, machine-made wig found in numerous stores today.

Many department stores and mail order concerns advertise wigs "made of human hair" that actually contain synthetic and animal hair.

No law is broken as long as the wig contains a solitary strand of human hair.

For these reasons, ethical manufacturers of hairpieces are demanding that wig stores and manufacturers be licensed and regulated.

WIGS ARE a status symbol and are here to stay. The price of a good wig is adjustable, depending just how much the buyer wants to spend. Prices of wigs range from $30 (a sale) to $1,000, depending on the quality. The finest wigs are made of virgin hair that has never been bleached or curled.

With the wig boom, many substitutes for human hair have come on the market. A new wig recently appeared on the market made of all synthetic fibers. It comes very close to looking like human hair.

BETTER BUSINESS Bureaus have received many complaints from women who paid for European hair and received cheaper and coarser Oriental hair.

Other complaints are that the wigs were a mixture of Asian hair and yak hair.

The Food and Drug Administration has done some probing, after complaints were received concerning red spots on the scalp, into the possible injurious effect to women who are allergic to animal's hair.

A favorite gimmick is the "wig party." The party giver is promised a free wig if she will invite a number of friends in to watch the salesman demonstrate his wares.

To get this "free wig," one housewife signed a contract promising to pay $21 down and to have the wig set 48 times at $7 a setting.

One woman found the wig bought at a party to be different in color and bad fitting when it was delivered. When she refused to pay for it, she was sued by a finance company and ordered to pay by the court.

WHEN PURCHASING a wig, look at the hair itself. Is it soft? But again, a shady operator can wash and soften coarse hair in creams and only an expert can tell the difference between a cheap and expensive hairpiece.

An expert will look at the knitted nylon cap to which the hair is attached. The cap should be handknitted, stitches should be close together and the hairs tied to the cap by hand.

It is important that the wig be styled by an expert. A good quality wig, properly styled, should last a minimum of ten years.

Take your wig to a reliable shop to be set and refurbished. Better Business Bureaus have received complaints that cheap wigs have been substituted for expensive ones.

Reports have been received of damage purposely done to a wig to induce the sale of a new wig or an extensive repair job.

As most women do not know the difference in quality of wigs, the only protection is to purchase from an established firm.

The Moment of Truth Is Due

Don Miller

THE MOMENT of truth for North County taxpayers is due any day now when the county's new assessment roll is made known. It's a moment most taxpayers have eyed with considerable misgivings since the county undertook to reassess property upward from the old average of about 19 per cent of fair market value to a new average of about 25 per cent.

Although many homeowners know by now what their property is valued at under the new ratio, they've been kept guessing about their tax rates.

That's because until the assessment roll is drawn up, most taxing entities — school districts, cities, special districts and so on — can't determine a precise rate.

THERE HAVE been, in the past few weeks, some indications in which direction the taxing wind will blow once the roll is determined.

For example, Daly City councilmen have pledged to set a tax rate that will compensate for the higher assessed valuation. The city's financial needs, as determined by the councilmen, will be the first factor in setting the rate but the city fathers have said they will not take advantage of the higher taxing base to institute new spending programs.

The North San Mateo County Sanitation District has already indicated that its tax rate will drop 15 cents and that nine cents of this reduction is attributable directly to a desire by the district's directors to offset the higher assessments with a lowered tax rate.

In Pacifica, the North Coast Water District also has cut its tax rate and the exact amount should be known this week when the assessment roll is determined.

A preliminary estimate is a 15-cent reduction. District Manager Harlan Hill has stated that however much the tax base goes up because of re-assessment, the tax rate will go down accordingly.

Pacifica city fathers have said somewhat the same thing, emphasizing, however, that the city's needs will take first consideration in determining what kind of a rate will be needed.

ON THE SCHOOL district front, the picture for taxpayers is less rosy. That's because the North County has a number of what the state considers as "poor" districts and because of a somewhat complicated formula, these districts will lose out on some state aid this year because of the increase in property assessments.

In the Jefferson Elementary School District, the picture is one of the gloomiest from a taxpayer standpoint. Trustees, in attempting to maintain the district's educational program at last year's level, have had to resort to a special override tax of 27 cents to keep the books in balance.

The general purpose tax the district levies is now at a legal maximum of $2.50 and the only way the tax ceiling could be raised would be through a district election.

In the Laguna Salada School District, trustees also have given a green light for a new override tax to be tacked onto the district's present maximum general rate of $2.45. Laguna, like Jefferson, also is facing the prospect of less state aid because of the reassessment.

A SOMEWHAT brighter picture is envisioned in the Jefferson High School District where the tax wind seems to be blowing in the direction of a possible tax cut.

The district's general purpose tax rate of $2 also is at a legal maximum and can be boosted only through voter approval.

The district is empowered to levy a tax of up to 10 cents for the cost of its adult education program but has not done so to date and doesn't plan to this year.

Supt. Edward Morgan, buried in figures the past few weeks, has indicated that he probably will recommend a hold-the-line tax rate and perhaps even a lower rate than the present $2 maximum. He'll make his recommendations known at Monday's meeting of the board.

So, the North County tax balance sheet so far shows two special districts going for lower tax rates, the cities ready to cut their rates to offset the higher reassessments if they can and a couple of school districts, facing a cut in state aid, going for a new override tax.

As we said at the outset, the final score should be known within a fortnight or so now and the howl we've all been hearing about higher assessments may either rise to ear-splitting level or be toned down considerably once the score is posted.

WHILE WE'RE on the subject of howling, there's an anguished cry of a different nature being heard these days from the direction of Higate Drive in Daly City.

It's being directed at city officials by Higate Drive residents who want some sort of barrier erected at the top of the embankment sloping down to their backyards to prevent autos from careening off Skyline Drive and plunging down the hillside.

It happened again last week as you'll note in a story on another page of today's Post and the only thing that saved the driver of the latest somersaulting car is the fact that he got tossed out while the auto was en route to a backyard.

The sleeping family whose backyard it was knew exactly what was going on when they heard the car thump against the side of their house, they told police later.

From the way the land slopes up there, the solution to this business of tumbling autos is not going to be arrived at easily. But that a solution is needed is no longer any question in the minds of the Higate Drive folk, they say quite adamantly, and they're ready to besiege City Hall with protests until one is arrived at.

The Music of The Masters

Samuel Chandler

TO A YOUNG man who came for an audience, the Emperor of Austria said, "My dear Mozart, your music has too many notes."

Whereupon Mozart retorted, "Just as many notes as are necessary, Your Majesty."

The Emperor and his judgments are forgotten while Mozart's music is enjoyed by all "sorts of people" as Mozart said it would be when he related his experiences at court to his father.

For example, the May Schwann Catalog lists 15 recordings of his Concerto in A for Clarinet; 16 of his Concerto No. 20 in D; 11 of his Concerto in C for flute and harp; seven of the opera, The Marriage of Figaro, and 39 of his quartets.

One of these that has been highly received is a record that contains the quartet in A major, K 464, and the quartet in C major, K 465. These two are of a series of six quartets that Mozart dedicated to his friend and fellow composer, Joseph Haydn.

Their beauty moved critic B. H. Haggin to say that: "You will hear in no other quartets the ear ravishing use of the medium that you hear in these famous six." Homer Ulrich called them "The finest example of Mozart's genius."

This record was recorded by the famous Barchet Quartet, which was formed in Stuttgart, Germany, and has toured Europe and America. The recording is part of the Dover Publications HCR series.

ANOTHER in this series is Henry Purcell's Trio Sonatas. In common with most of Purcell's work, the trios are seldom recorded and the recordings more seldom played. Yet they have been acclaimed for their particular beauty.

The instruments that are played by the artists who present the recording are two violins, a cello, and a harpsichord. This record has been called a clear recording of some of the most noble and touching music known to anyone.

One of the most singular of Dover's series is a recording of Johann Sebastian Bach's Partitas for Unaccompanied Violin. These pieces stem from years when Bach served as kapellmeister and director of chamber music to Prince Leopold of Anhalt-Cöthen.

This was Bach's middle period when his children were being trained to be musicians. From it came his Brandenburg Concertos and his orchestral music.

In the partitas in this recording, Bach seems to have poured out one of his favorite themes, that "the object of all music should be the glory of God." They idealize the dance movements of Europe. Philipp Spitta said of one of them: "This chaconne is a triumph of spirit over matter such as even he (Bach) never repeated in a brilliant manner."

ANOTHER OF the Dover Series is a recording of two of Schubert's sonatas. Sonata in C Minor and Sonata in B Major, Opus 147. The recording pianist is Friedrich Wührer. Of them, Harold C. Schonberg commented: "Wührer has musicianship, sweep, power, and an ability to integrate Schubert's measures such as few pianists have had since Schubert."

Another reviewer wrote of Wührer's recording of Schubert's Sonatas, "Wührer's hands are like steel and the piano fairly shivers in the louder passages. The music can take it, too, since Wührer also knows his lyric contrasts and can soften his tone beautifully between tempests."

Schubert composed the Sonata in C Minor during the last year of his tragic life. It was a year of brooding of expected death. The story is told that in March 1827 after attending Beethoven's funeral, he repaired to a tavern where he proposed a toast. "To him we have just buried."

Then he refilled his glass and said, "To him who will be next," meaning himself. Nineteen months later he died.

The Sonata in B Major was published in 1843, fifteen years after Schubert's death.

ANOTHER in the Dover series is Friedrich Wührer and the Barchet Quartet's recording of Schubert Quintet in A Major, Op. 114. This is the Trout Quintet.

Others include recordings of works by Ravel, Rossini, and Bartok. One of special interest is, "12 Fantasies for Harpsichord" by the 18th century composer, Georg Philipp Telemann, with Helma Elser at the harpsichord.

Dashing Supper Made in Minutes

Serve supper with a dash... stir now and then. Serve with eggs.

Eggs:
Mix eggs, shrimp, bean sprouts, onion, almonds, water chestnuts, and salt. In skillet, drop mixture by ¼ cupfuls into hot oil (makes about 8). Fry until browned on both sides; drain. Serve with sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Creating a tempting main dish can be accomplished in a matter of minutes. Canned Italian style spaghetti already has the uniquely flavored sauce so characteristic of the country for which it's named. All the homemaker needs to do is add some cooked shrimp... a bit of canned whole kernel corn... and a dash of chili powder. In the time it takes the water to boil for the coffee... supper is ready. Serve this Shrimp Spaghetti Supper with a selection of relishes for snappy accompaniment and a dessert of canned fruit — apricots and plums, perhaps.

Shrimp Spaghetti Supper
½ cup chopped onion
½ teaspoon chili powder
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (15½ ounces) Italian style spaghetti
1 cup cooked shrimp
1-3 cup whole kernel corn with sweet peppers
1 teaspoon lemon juice
In saucepan, cook onion with chili powder in butter until tender. Add remaining ingredients. Heat; stir now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

For faraway flavors, canned gravies fit well into the plan. Canned mushroom gravy, for example, makes a flavorful base for the Egg Foo Young. The Oriental cuisine enthusiasts will go for this marvelous dish.

EGG FOO YOUNG
½ medium green pepper, cut in 1-inch strips
1 medium clove garlic, minced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) mushroom gravy
Generous dash ginger
½ teaspoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon soy sauce
5 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup finely chopped cooked shrimp
¼ cup drained bean sprouts
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup toasted slivered almonds
¼ cup chopped water chestnuts
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup salad oil
Sauce:
In saucepan, cook green pepper with garlic in butter until tender. Add gravy, ginger, lemon juice, and soy sauce. Heat;

An Angelic Dessert for Warm Day

When the sun is warm and the outdoor world beckons, you can surprise your family with an angelic dessert and still get out of the kitchen in a hurry, if you plan it right.

Planning starts with an unfrosted angel food cake from the bakery or food store and a recipe for an Apricot Angel Torte that's as easy to make as it is to eat.

Its delightful flavor comes from apricot preserves, its fluffy texture from a whipped topping. If your preserves are the thick kind, you won't need to touch the stove. If they're quite juicy, it's best to thicken by bringing to a boil and cooling.

With only a few minutes of mixing and spreading, you achieve a gala dessert that's fresh, cool, and satisfying to the sweetest tooth. It's quick and easy enough for a week-night dinner, and elegant enough for Sunday best or guests.

APRICOT ANGEL TORTE
1½ cups apricot preserves
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
¼ teaspoon almond extract
1 backed 10-inch angel food cake
1 envelope (2 ounce) whipped topping mix
½ cup milk
Blend apricot preserves, lemon rind, and extract. If preserves are juicy, heat to boiling point and cool if they are thick, use without heating. Cut cake into 3 even layers crosswise. Spread ½ cup apricot mixture between cake layers. Combine topping mix and milk; beat as directed on package. Fold in remaining apricot mixture. Frost top and sides of cake. Chill until ready to serve. Yield: one 10-inch torte, enough for 12 servings.

Date Salad
Fold slivered California dates into dairy sour cream and dollop into the centers of chilled canned or homemade spiced apple rings on a bed of western iceberg lettuce.

Serve a colorful, aromatic, flavorful soup to start the meal. Canned noodle dry soup mix (now in single cans with pull-tab tops and yellow labels) is the base of this elegant prelude. Crushed tarragon and cut-up shrimp are the extras.

For Sociability, Try Party Soup

Of-quoted Brillat-Savarin was truly a wise observer. His remark about soup is, perhaps, one of the most famous of all times: "... after a weary day, it promotes dinner sociability as the five o'clock cup of tea."

Hostesses in this harried day and age have come to realize the soothing power of soup... especially when served to set the stage for the evening meal. While relaxing activity-worn nerves, it whets the appetite for the food that follows.

Canned noodle dry soup mix offers a glorious selection of "dinner starters" for today's homemaker. Out of each can come four cups of delicately flavored soup... delightful in its own right and the most marvelous basis for variations.

See what happens when the additions are cut-up shrimp and a bit of crushed tarragon... a colorful, aromatic, flavorful (but not too filling) start for the main meal.

Dinner Party Noodle Soup
1 can (2½-ounce) noodle dry soup mix
7 cans (4 cups) cold water
¾ cup chopped cooked shrimp
¼ teaspoon tarragon, crushed.
Empty soup mix into saucepan. Add water, shrimp, and tarragon. Bring to boil, stirring often. Partially cover; simmer 7 minutes, stirring now and then. Makes 4 to 5 servings. And... the nicest thing of all...

...canned noodle dry soup mix with its easy pull-tab opening now comes in single cans, too. They're easily found by their yellow labels. Stock up or buy what you need at the time. It's a grand addition to meal plans.

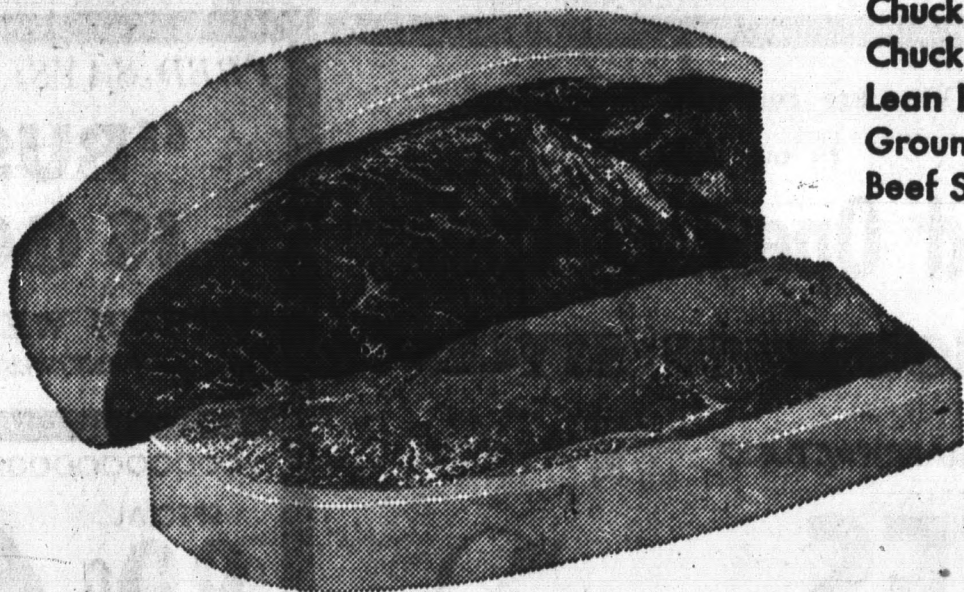

Retail food prices during 1964 have averaged a little more than 1 per cent above the same months of 1963. U.S. population was larger by about 1.4 per cent during the same period.

REFRESHING BUT HEARTY—When iceberg lettuce is given a dressing that is chock-full of cheese, it makes a main course salad.

Robust Dressing On Iceberg Lettuce

Lots of folks think nothing tastes so good on iceberg lettuce as a savory, robust dressing—Thousand Island, Russian, Blue Cheese or Roquefort. For something new in the way of dressings, here's a combination of sour cream, two kinds of semi-soft milk cheese, celery, parsley, sweet pickle and seasonings. When this recipe came our way, we weren't sure about adding the sweet pickle; but trying the dressing with and without it, we vote for the pickle.

Know how to remove the core from a head of iceberg? According to lettuce experts, you whack the head—coreside down—on a drainboard. Then you lift or twist out the core with your fingers. What's against using a sharp knife? Cut edges discolor. If whacking gives you no pleasure, go ahead and use a knife! When lettuce is cored and cut just before serving, you don't have to worry about discoloration. But no matter how you choose to remove the core, be sure to rinse the lettuce. Hold the head, core side up, under cold running water. And be absolutely sure to drain it thoroughly.

SUMMER SALAD
1 head iceberg lettuce
1/2 cup commercial sour cream
1/2 cup chopped parsley
2 tablespoons lemon juice
teaspoon crumbled thyme
Dash of garlic powder
Salt and white pepper
1 cup diced sharp cheddar cheese

1/2 cup diced mild white cheese (such as Edam or Jack)
1 1/4 cups thinly sliced celery
1/4 cup sliced sweet pickle
10 slices cucumber
10 half-slices tomato
Core, rinse and drain lettuce.
In a mixing bowl stir together the sour cream, parsley, lemon juice, thyme, garlic powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt and pepper to taste; add the cheese, celery and pickles; mix well. Cut lettuce lengthwise into 5 wedges; arrange wedges on large serv-

Rainbow Dessert Kept in Freezer

Alternate small scoops of lime and strawberry sherbet and vanilla ice cream in your prettiest serving bowl. Keep in freezer until just before serving. Spoon on chilled drained canned fruit cocktail. Serve with wedges of angel food cake during Dairy Month in June.

Grape Jelly Puff Pie's Flavoursome

When it comes to dessert—and we all love to come to it—there's a lot going for this Grape Jelly Puff Pie.

First, there's the good fruity flavor that tastes like fresh-squeezed juice, but comes from grape jelly broken into tiny bits with a fork. (Or you can use red raspberry or strawberry preserves.)

Second, there's the smooth, creamy texture to contrast with the crisp graham-cracker crust you make yourself or buy ready to use.

Third, there's the richness of the pretty puffs of topping mix that seive as edging.

And last—but very important—there's the easy way it mixes together in record time, with no cooking except for just enough to melt the gelatin.

When it comes to tempting summer appetites, this Puff Pie just can't be beat—whether you make it with grape jelly or vary it by using red raspberry or strawberry preserves.

GRAPE JELLY PUFF PIE
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 jar (10 ounces) grape jelly or 1 jar (12 ounces) red raspberry preserves
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 envelope (2 ounces) whipped topping mix
1/2 cup milk

Red food coloring, as desired
1 9-inch commercial or home-made graham cracker crust
Whipped topping for garnish, if desired.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Melt over low heat. Break jelly or preserves into small bits with fork. Add jelly or preserves, lemon juice and salt to gelatin; stir until jelly or preserves melt. Chill mixture until cooled and thickened. Combine topping mix and milk; beat as directed on package. Fold topping into chilled jelly mixture. Add food coloring for desired color. Pour into shell. Chill until firm or freeze, if desired. Serve plain or topped with additional whipped topping if desired.

Quick 'n Easy
Canned salmon is a convenient food for making all kinds of quick summer dishes. It's easy to store and always ready to come to the aid of the home-maker. Next time your neighbor drops in for a chat, serve this salmon dip with a bowl of potato chips, crackers or some crisp raw vegetables.

Salmon Dillydip
Drain and flake a 7-ounce can salmon. Mix with juices of 1/2 lemon, one tablespoon minced onion, 1/4-cup minced cucumber, 1/4 teaspoon ground pepper, one teaspoon dry dill weed or one tablespoon chopped fresh dill and from 1/4 to two cups sour cream, depending on consistency desired. Chill well before serving.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Beef porterhouse steak.

Q. Where does it come from? How is it identified?

A. This steak is the largest from the short loin section. It has the distinction of having the largest tenderloin muscle of any steak. This is the smaller muscle which lies to the left of the T-shaped bone. To the right of the bone is the larger portion of meat, known as the loin eye muscle.

A change from older meat cutting methods has eliminated the flank muscle, often called the "tail" of the porterhouse steak.

Q. What is the difference between the porterhouse and T-bone steak?

A. Often the designations are used interchangeably. If the two steaks are side by side, the one with larger tenderloin muscle is called porterhouse.

Q. How is porterhouse steak prepared?

A. By broiling. Porterhouse steaks which are 1 inch thick need 18 to 20 minutes total broiling time for rare and 20 to 25 minutes for medium-rare. Do not preheat broiler. Season with salt and pepper after broiling.

Louanne's Datebook

By LOUANNE HEATH

THIS SUMMER is off to a busy start for young Cheryl Neugebauer, the local lass who has been named the Grand Officer of the Rainbow to the Grand Assembly of Oklahoma in California.

It's a long and confusing title, which means responsibility as well as a very busy, exciting and enjoyable summer for Cheryl. Currently, she and sister, Donna, are preparing for a four-day jaunt to Illinois for a meeting of the grand assembly of that state and this time Cheryl is going to keep her eye on all their luggage.

Luggage became a major problem when Cheryl trekked to Oklahoma for the grand assembly. Five bags were carefully packed for the adventure and five bags were loaded into the cab that took the family to the San Francisco Airport, but officials of the airline could only account for four suitcases when Cheryl disembarked in Oklahoma.

Naturally, it was the suitcase that contained all the essentials that became lost in the shuffle and as a result, an unscheduled shopping spree had to be worked into the pre-assembly agenda. Only within the past few days has the errant bit of luggage been located — in the trunk of the cab in San Francisco.

Next week's trip to the midwest will end Cheryl's visits to other states and this month she will begin her duties as one of the California misses who will be welcoming Rainbow visitors to this area. Saturday evening she will be among those on hand to sample the hospitality of the San Francisco Assembly.

One strictly local event that Cheryl is counting on attending is a campout being planned for July 24 and 25 by the members of her own Skyline Assembly. More than two dozen of the members will travel to Willets for a weekend of camping, swimming and dancing as guests on property owned by her aunt.

THE NEWLY ORGANIZED Pacifica Navy Mothers, Chapter 930, will hold its regular monthly meeting July 13 in Pacific Manor School, according to Mrs. Ann Dawson, adjutant.

The meeting will convene at 7:30 p.m. with commander Lila Somers at the helm. Primary item on the agenda will be a discussion of the ways and means of welfare projects for the fall. Also to be determined is a date, between August 1 and 15, to be designated as Navy Mothers Day. Some type of special observance will be planned, Mrs. Dawson said.

The Navy Mothers Banner, presented by Northern California State Organizer Mrs. Lenore Jenner during the institution ceremonies, will be used for the first time at a regular meeting this month. Also being used for the first time will be the altar cloth presented the new chapter by Chapter 27 of San Jose; the official gavel, the gift of Chapter 260 in Santa Rosa and the American flag, eagle pole and stand presented by Pacifica American Legion Post 238. The newly formed Daly City Chapter presented a check.

The Pacifica unit, instituted last month in ceremonies presided over by Mrs. Cecile LeMelle of Covina, is now in the process of enlarging its membership, Mrs. Dawson said. Anyone with a son or daughter active in or formerly associated with the Navy, Marine Corps or the Coast Guard is invited to consider affiliating with the club. For more information, contact unit recruiters by phoning 359-0553 or 359-1756.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE HERSOM of Daly City plan to vacation at their own home this year and enjoy a gorgeous new patio and backyard.

The Hersoms called in former classmates, Rusty Hahn and Don Dull, now partners in Floral Arts, to create a dream of a backyard, complete with curving brick walls, suspended bench, and graveled patio. The Hersoms are tenderly caring for the youthful ice plants and the lawn seedlings instead of packing for a trip, according to Antonette Hersom.

Home after a hectic visit to New York is Albert Theis of St. Francis Heights.

According to Mrs. Theis the trip began just one day before the New York cab drivers went on strike so Al has more than a nodding acquaintance with the subway system. To further complicate things, one of the members of the party became ill while away from our delightful climate and had to be hospitalized. However, Al managed to visit the Empire State Building and to take a boat tour of the harbor before returning.

PAMELA ALEXANDER, Robin Alexander, Wanda Cheniere, Linda Mayfield and Sandy Windhorst became members of Bethel 348, Order of Job's Daughters in Pacifica, during recent initiation rites presided over by Honored Queen Karen Narup. The event coincided with the official inspection of the Bethel by Deputy Grand Guardian Mrs. Lucy Warren, according to Linda Price, publicity manager for the Bethel.

The Grand Bethel meeting in Squaw Valley was attended by 17 members of Bethel 348 and five chaplains, Miss Price said. Tracy Clodfelter, Debbie and Sandy Ervin, Susan Miller, Miss Narup, her sister, Sarah Narup, Marcia Phinney, Leslie Pierce, Lorrie and Debbie Sandkulla, Carol and Mary Sitts, Miss Windhorst, Diane Howell, Lynn McFagen and Miss Cheniere, represented the Bethel at the three-day meet. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Warren, Mrs. Ann Stone, Marion Phinney and Teddy Ervin accompanied the girls.

Later this month, the girls and their families will be the guests of the Northern Guardian Council at a picnic to be held in Henry Cowell State Park, near Felton. According to Miss Price, the all-day affair is planned for July 18.

Also being planned, but currently completely surrounded by secrecy, is a mystery trip for Bethel members.

Leslie Pierce, a past honored queen of the Bethel, is in charge of the excursion to be held Aug. 1. Miss Price indicated that a few more details will be made public before the outing but the locale will remain secret.

Candlelight Rite Marks Installation

Installation of new officers of Mater Dolorosa Women's Club in South San Francisco was held in a candlelight ceremony with the Rev. J. Norman Allen acting as installing officer.

Mrs. Bert Kennedy is the new president for 1965-66 with Mrs. Laurence Delucchi as vice president. Other officers are:

Mrs. Elvin Gazzano, recording secretary; Mrs. Angelo Maracini, treasurer; Mrs. John Glendon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bernard Eichhorn, spiritual director; Mrs. George McQuade, youth director; Mrs. Charles Grech, social director, and Mrs. William Brusco, membership director.

Appointed officers are Mrs. Michael Fratus, parliamentarian; Mrs. John Carraro, hospitality, and Mrs. Joseph McNulty, publicity-historian.

Following the installation a short business meeting was conducted at which time the new president Mrs. Kennedy announced that the Women's Club will continue to meet during the summer in order to prepare items for the parish festival to be held September 23, 24, 25 and 26.

MR. AND MRS. GLEN RUNGE

Diane Carol Certiberi, Glen William Runge, Wed

Diane Carol Certiberi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nello J. Certiberi of South San Francisco, was married at Holy Angels Catholic Church to Glen William Runge, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Runge of Livermore.

The Rev. Daniel Sullivan conducted the ceremony, which was followed by a buffet dinner at the Santo Cristo Hall in South San Francisco.

Diane, who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a white Chantilly lace wedding dress whose Sabrina neckline was embroidered with sequins and pearls.

Her bouffant skirt fell into a small train, and a small double crown embroidered with sequins and pearls caught her shoulder-length veil. The bride carried white orchids and stephanotis.

Dorene Certiberi, her sister's maid of honor, wore a floor-length Empire gown of pink organza and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of baby roses.

Pastel gowns of different shades were selected by the three bridesmaids — Sandra Certiberi, Kathleen Lagomarsino, and Patricia Baldini — who carried baskets of matching flowers.

June Runge, Glen's sister, was a junior bridesmaid. Glen is also the brother of Alan Runge and Mrs. Helen Byrne.

William DeChiaro was best man, and guests were seated by Nelson Certiberi, brother of the bride, Richard Barsi, David Morgan, and Jerry Bergaman.

MR. AND MRS. DALE NEWHOUSE (Milton Mann Photo)

Margaret Anne Brant and Dale I. Newhouse Marry

McMinnville, Ore., will be the first home for Mr. and Mrs. Dale I. Newhouse who were married at the Lakeside Presbyterian Church in San Francisco.

Mrs. Newhouse is the former Margaret Anne Brant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Brant of 527 Del Mar Avenue, Pacifica; her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn I. Newhouse of Orinda.

The bride attended Westmoor High School and San Francisco State College and has been teaching in San Mateo.

The groom studied at Diablo Valley Junior College and is attending Linfield College in Oregon where his fraternity is Pi Kappa Alpha.

The bride wore a floor-length dress of taffeta rebroidered at the natural waistline with Alencon lace. Her belled skirt extended into a chapel train.

Her elbow-length veil was caught by a pillbox of seed pearls and she carried a cascade of Lucharist lilies.

Blue taffeta dresses with bodices of white lace were chosen by the attendants. Mrs. James Hein was her sister's matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Kaye McCool, Helen Newhouse, Marsha Lore and June Tanamachi.

Richard Newhouse was his brother's best man, and guests were escorted to their pews by Karl Lueche, Brian Peterson, Eugene Bolland and Cecil Stats. The Rev. Roe Johnston officiated.

The couple received felicitations in the church social hall before embarking on a honeymoon cruise to Hawaii.

S.S.F. Women Hold Picnic

The annual Garden Section picnic of the South San Francisco Women's Club was held this year at Orange Avenue Park.

The section was treated to a guided tour of the City Nursery by Bob Maxey, recreation director of South San Francisco and the park foreman.

Maxey explained to the ladies that for several years three have been experiments going on at the nursery as to what trees and plants would grow best in the area and would do well in the parks.

Following this a tour was taken of Pete Mozzotti's Carnation Nursery where the group viewed carnations from their beginnings through to their boxing and shipping to all parts of the country. Mozzotti's carnations have won awards all over the state and they have developed a special "Mozzotti White" carnation.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Perhaps the dentist's greatest aid in assuring proper and adequate treatment is in the use of X-ray equipment. Parents often do not understand the importance of X-ray examination of children's teeth. X-ray pictures make it possible to discover abnormalities of teeth that may affect future health. By means of X-ray examination the dentist can detect fly cavities, cavities not visible through ordinary examinations; new decay beneath old fillings; absence of the formation of permanent teeth in the jaws; impacted teeth, and many other conditions of which he could not otherwise be sure.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

Along with the announcement that there was to be a bake-off in San Francisco this year, there arrived at my desk a recipe book with the winning recipes from last year's contest. This book is full of recipes and pictures that make you want to rush right into the kitchen and try them out.

Needless to say, my first interest was in the desserts and they were delightful to behold. Then I switched to the entrees and this recipe for a meatball pie caught my eye. I gave it a try and I see why it won the prize.

BARBECUE MEATBALL PIE

- 1½ cups flour
- three-fourths teas. salt
- ½ cup shortening
- 4 drops liquid smoke
- 5 Tbsp. cold water

Combine flour and salt in mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture is the size of small peas. Add liquid smoke to water; sprinkle a little at a time over flour-shortening mixture, stirring with a fork until dough holds together. Shape into two balls, one twice as large. Flatten balls to half-inch thickness; smooth edges. Roll out larger ball on floured surface to a circle one and a half inches larger than an inverted nine-inch piepan. Fit into pan. Fold edge to form a standing rim; flute. Place meatballs into pastry-lined pan. Top with sauce. Roll out remaining pastry. Cut into three-inch circles. Place around edge of pie. Bake at 425 degrees for ten minutes, then at 375 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes until crust is golden brown. Let stand ten minutes before serving.

MEATBALLS AND TOMATO SAUCE

- 1 pound ground meat
- 1½ teas. salt
- ¼ teas. pepper
- 1 egg
- ¼ cup quick-cooking rolled oats
- 1 cup American cheese, ¼-inch cubes
- 4 drops liquid smoke
- 1 cup cooked or canned tomatoes
- 1 cup drained whole kernel corn (drained)
- 2 Tbsp. flour
- 2 Tbsp. chopped onion
- 2 Tbsp. chopped green pepper
- 2 Tbsp. chopped celery
- 2 Tbsp. barbecue sauce
- 1 teas. sugar

Combine ground beef, salt, pepper, egg, oats, cheese and liquid smoke. Form into 18 small meatballs. Combine tomatoes (if whole break up) with remaining ingredients; mix well.

A First Place!

MARGARET BUSCHINI, Post-Times classified advertising manager, accepts a first place award from Dave Bous, Ad Director, Vallejo Times Herald, and exhibit chairman of the Association of Newspaper Classified Advertising, at the association's convention in San Francisco. The Post-Times won the award in a special classified ad competition held during International Want Ad Week.

MOTOR TAKEN

Robert Bills of 229 Coronado Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that an outboard motor had been stolen from his garage.

CAMERA TAKEN

Roger Johnson of 208 Belhaven Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that a camera had been stolen from his garage.

Laguna Aides Are Selected

Marv Dutton and Helen Price, Laguna Salada teachers, are two of fifteen persons selected from the Bay Area to participate in a class at San Francisco State College on "Prevention and Treatment of the Emotionally Disturbed Child."

Fritz Redl, an internationally known authority on the topic, will be the instructor.

Hilda Flemming, another Laguna teacher, has been chosen as a participant in an elementary guidance institute at the University of Rochester.

Delay Told in Route Choice

Pacific City Engineer Ken Thompson has reported there will be a six-week wait on a decision from the State Division of Highways as to whether or not the present proposed intersection of Route 186 and the Coast Highway will be relocated.

The Pacific Highway Committee recently recommended that the intersection be placed farther north than present the planned location near Rockaway Beach. Route 186 is the proposed extension of San Bruno Avenue. It will terminate at the Coast Highway in Pacifica.

Thompson said that the Highway Committee will begin studying landscape problems for the freeway and has asked the Division of Highways to explain procedures for having the completed portion of the freeway landscaped.

D.C. Adopts Preliminary Fiscal Plan

A budget of $4,733,411 described as "very tentative" by City Manager Edward Frank, has been adopted by the Daly City Council.

Frank said that a number of budget study sessions will be held before a final figure is determined.

He added that determination of a tax rate would not be possible until after the sessions are completed and that any estimate of a rate would be conjecture at this time.

The council has pledged to set a rate that will compensate proportionately for the increase in property assessments undertaken by the county.

Frank said the adoption of the budget at this time which he described as a preliminary budget, is a legal move the city must take so that it may operate in the new fiscal year which started July 1.

The final budget will depend upon the county's assessment roll which is expected to be known early this month and any adjustments of city department budget requests undertaken by councilmen in the study sessions.

Eagle Scout Rank Given

Steven Humber son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Humber of 225 El Campo Drive South San Francisco and a sophomore at El Camino High School last semester was presented by Ray Stull, director of White Scout, with the highest rank in Scouting the Eagle Badge at a National Court of Honor held at El Rancho School.

Attending the ceremonies were his maternal grandmother Mrs. Genelle Stam of Stockton; his great-grandmother Mrs. V. K. Reddick of Sacramento and his paternal grandmother Mrs. M. E. Humber whose four sons held the rank of Eagle Scout.

WINDOW BROKEN

2 Fishermen 'Rescued' at Devil's Slide

Two East Palo Alto men were rescued Sunday from a ledge on perilous Devil's Slide where they had been stranded for nearly six hours, not realizing that they could have saved themselves.

The victims, John Brash, 28-year-old Stanford Research Institute chemist, and John Schlick, a purchasing agent for Ampex Corporation, told sheriff's deputies that they started fishing from the rocks near Grey Whale Cove at 11 a.m.

At 2 p.m., the men said, they realized for the first time that the tide had come in and that it would be too perilous to try to leave by the route they had come. And the 200-foot climb up the sheer face of the cliff seemed impossible.

Finally, at 7:45 p.m., some one heard their shouts and notified authorities.

A rescue team from the Pacifica Fire Department, headed by Capt. Ed Girdler, went to the scene, prepared to haul the men up the cliff.

But the firemen knew of a way up the cliff and the rescue was merely a matter of them climbing down to show the men how to do it.

WINDOW BROKEN

Officials of Coin Operated Laundry at 7395 Mission Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that vandals had broken a six-foot-by-eight-foot window.

Turner-Dragonetti Dodge Agency to Open on Coast

A new auto dealership in Pacifica, Turner-Dragonetti Dodge, is expected to open in Pacifica within the next three months.

Ground has been broken for construction of the new agency at the intersection of the Coast Highway and the extension of San Pedro Avenue.

The agency will be owned and operated by Andrew C. Turner and Richard E. Dragonetti.

Turner, who will head the firm, is a former Plymouth salesman and a Rambler sales manager.

The building will be erected by Wilkenson Construction Company. The structure will be complemented by a hillside eucalyptus grove.

Reply to Criticism Is Issued

The Laguna Salada School District last week replied to criticism of the district by former Vallejo schoolteacher Alfred Lynch.

On April 12, 1965, Lynch sent a letter to the school board in which he expressed concern over the district's policies concerning: the use of substitute teachers; length of the school day; suitability of certain school activities; standards of grooming and clothing for students, and homework.

Lynch questioned the manner in which policies relating to these items were being implemented.

On April 19, Mrs. Ruth Boudinot, chairman of the board, sent a letter to Lynch, asking him to make an appointment with Dr. Lucille Foster, assistant superintendent, to discuss the items listed in his letter.

In a statement, the district said: "To this date Mr. Lynch has not pursued the issue further. The administration has investigated all points of concern listed by Mr. Lynch.

"A few points were valid. Most were not. In some cases, validity could not be determined due to insufficient information supplied by Mr. Lynch.

"In the one case where change was obviously needed, a conference was held with the individual involved and suggestions made for improving the situation."

Lynch was fired by the district earlier this year. A suit against him has been filed by the district in Superior Court. The suit charges him with unprofessional conduct and evident unfitness for duty.

Results of Derby Due

Results of the annual Powder Puff Derby in which a Daly City woman was scheduled to participate were expected to be known today.

Deadline for the distaff pilots to complete the 2,500 transcontinental flight from El Cajon to Chattanooga, Tenn., is noon today. Elapsed flying time decides the winner.

The Daly City pilot is Mrs. Caroline Schutt of 60 Westhaven Drive. She had been scheduled to take off Saturday. About 100 women pilots and co-pilots had entered the competition.

Aid Request Is Cut Back By State Unit

Laguna Salada School District Supt. Fred Lucas announced last week that the district's application for federal science and language projects funds had been approved by the State Department of Education but that the amount requested had been cut by two-thirds.

Lucas stated that all such projects in the state had been cut by two-thirds regardless of merit or ability of a school district to finance the programs. He said the district's application had represented a minimum expenditure for essential items needed in the district.

The district had budgeted over $7,000 for the projects and had expected the federal government to match funds with it.

Lucas said that from $6,000 to $8,000 was needed for essential equipment. The district adopted a tentative budget, which, Lucas noted, had been cut to a bare minimum.

Now, he said, it will be necessary to trim the budget even further.

Lucas called the two-thirds cut arbitrary and said it was "not really fair at all."

HUBCAPS STOLEN

David Johnson of 219 Glenwood Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had stolen three hubcaps from his auto.

Foster City School Site Set

Trustees of the San Mateo Union High School district yesterday took a firm option on the choice 56,074 acre site in Foster City for a new high school to accommodate 3,000 students and serve all of the eastern area of the city of San Mateo. It will be the largest high school in the district. The board will meet July 20 to exercise the option which expires on July 21.

A negotiated price of $800,000 for the site was agreed upon with T. Jack Foster Jr., chief executive of T. Jack Foster & Sons, owners of the land and developers of Foster City. The site proposal was originally submitted as 40 acres with an additional 16 acres as a gift of T. Jack Foster & Sons, but it was deemed desirable to the board to include the entire acreage in the purchase. The 16 acres can be utilized for parking area, outdoor sports, recreation facilities but cannot be used for buildings as PG&E power lines run overhead.

The board voted 4 to 1 for approval of the purchase option with Mrs. Vincent Cullinan objecting because she felt that the 16 acres might have maintenance problems. She also felt that the site should have frontage on Hillsdale Boulevard which would entail moving the entire Foster City civic center as envisioned in the master plan of the model city.

However Alfred Hansen, board chairman, backed by Carleton Herrmann and Mrs. Donald K. Grant, trustees said that the site was the finest available in the area, that its location was benefited by the fact that it was set back from the major boulevard for entering and leaving Foster City was an important safety factor as this boulevard will eventually carry 75,000 cars daily.

John Lyon Reid, school architect of the firm of Reid, Rockwell, Banwell & Tarics, San Francisco testified that the site as proposed was "ideal" and the 16 gift acres would provide for parking, enabling maximum utilization of the 40 acres for educational purposes. He was high in his praise of the site pointing out that most of the district school sites had involved difficult grading problems and loss of land usage. "Every inch of this ground is usable and the access from three sides in excellent," Reid said.

The site is bounded by Foster City Boulevard, Shell Boulevard and Bounty Drive and is adjacent to the apartment area now under way and in the vicinity of the planned 60 acre lake.

Prior to approval of the option, the board had heard exhaustive reports during the past two years including soils engineers Lee & Praker for the board and Dames & Moore for the Estero Municipal Improvement District. The engineering firms said that the site with proper fill and employment of modern engineering techniques was as safe as any location on the Peninsula.

Leon Lessinger, district superintendent, said that the negotiations with T. Jack Foster Jr. and Estero Municipal Improvement were most fair and cooperative and all elements of importance had been resolved by compromise for the benefit of district taxpayers.

Lessinger said that the new high school will be needed within three years and that bond issue proposals will be submitted to the district for consideration. He estimates a $5 million plant.

He said that the site will enable the board to develop studies in the subject of oceanography and related scientific subjects which he said is rapidly coming into focus as a highly desirable part of the curriculum. Economic experts predict that scientific exploration of the Bay and ocean may hold the future progress and maintenance of the population of the world, comparable in scope to the present exploration of space.

Hansen, Hillsborough, was re-elected chairman of the San Mateo Union High School district board of trustees at the annual meeting of the board held yesterday.

Mrs. Cullinan was re-elected clerk of the board. Trustee representative will be Carleton Herrmann succeeding Mrs. Donald Grant.
